Meet AJ

AJ McGehee is a Speech Language Pathologist who received her master's degree from New York University. The Chicagoland native is passionate about forming strong relationships and having a ton of fun while working towards your or your child's goals! When she's not helping clients, she loves spending time with her 5 pets, reading, hiking, camping, or anything outdoors!

AJ's Areas of Expertise

AJ can help with a variety of areas including speech, expressive and receptive language, articulation, social communication, memory, voice, and fluency. AJ enjoys working with pediatrics and adults.
